

Bespoke App Development

End-to-end tailored solutions designed to meet real needs

Akendi offers complete end-to-end tailored app development including hosting. Rapid advancements in AI coding mean the onus is now on designing solutions that meet real needs—this requires the UX expertise Akendi is known for. AI coding has made it cost-effective to develop bespoke solutions even for small user bases, and to rapidly evolve these solutions based on changing needs. We deliver this as a full end-to-end service, and for clients with privacy concerns, we can optionally use our own local AI for coding rather than external AI services.

THIS SERVICE PROVIDES...

Cost-effective bespoke solutions, even for small user bases.

Rapid development and evolution based on changing needs.

Optional privacy-first coding using our own local AI.
